Ref: HTS and new Holm Division

Dear Customer,

Since our acquisition of Commercial & Plant company in 2017, we have been working on a strategy to increase value to our clients.

Following a lot of consultation and discussion we have established a new brand; Holm UK.

Holm UK focuses on the direct sourcing of OE manufactured filters for our larger clients, allowing purchasing from source and distribution direct to the end user. The objective is to bring better value, more flexibility, more customer personalisation and a much bigger range. HTS will continue to serve you in the same way as we do currently, and we are continually enlarging our range.

Holm UK is a trading division of HTS Spares Ltd but will trade under separate identity, so to take advantage of the benefits of dealing with both suppliers, we request that you set up a separate supplier record to trade directly.
